

Artistic Construction Management (ACM) is one of the most diversified and service orientated building companies in today's construction industry. As part of the Advanced Artistic Companies, we offer a turnkey project approach that is unmatched by our competitors.

We represent the owner by managing your project from concept to completion. This includes:

- Architecture
- Engineering
- Hard Construction
- Interior Design
- FF&E Purchasing
- Installation

Whether we integrate with your project team or create one for you, ACM will uphold the highest professional standards as we meet today's construction and development challenges straight on.

ACM has flourished with a finished trade base while still maintaining our excellence in site work, masonry, carpentry and other core construction trades. The result is an aesthetically pleasing project that works functionally and is built with structural integrity.

Equally as important, ACM coordinates all of the various professional design and craftsman work scopes into a clear focus on interior finishes, drastically reducing the number of change orders too often associated with poor planning of the final finish schedule. This results in lower construction costs.

We also work hand-in-hand with you, the owner, in value engineering, creating scopes of work and bidding your project directly to the sub contractor pool. This process eliminates high percentage mark-ups of general contracting companies and places the power of the job back with you, our partner, where it belongs.

Think of ACM as an aesthetically functional, structurally integral part of your development team.
